ONE AWESOME EXPERIENCE

Rod and Sheri Gray of Pellet Envy have created a one of a kind competition cooking instructional event. The 2009 KCBS Team of the Year Champions and 2010 KCBS TOY Runner-Up, and one of the most successful team in competition barbecue, we will share every detail of their competitive cooking style, including the complete and exact recipes used in competition every weekend.

- Concentration on the four main KCBS categories – Chicken, Ribs, Pork & Brisket
- Complete contest simulated on our Jambo traditional offset pit
- Every detail of our award winning cooking program discussed in depth
- Meat quality, selection, and detailed information on brisket aging will be addressed
- Revealing techniques to allow the cook to achieve consistent, repeatable results
- Providing proven presentations to achieve the best possible scores
- Taste all four competition categories prepped and cooked in this class

This event will be held at the VFW post #846 in Overland Park, Kansas, a suburb of Kansas City. This location is the home of vert successful barbecue competition, the VFW Post #846 BBQ Challenge, a Kansas City Barbeque Society sanctioned event.

This is a classroom style event, which allows you to completely focus on the techniques presented. The class will begin promptly at 6:00 pm on Friday. After an evening of intense instruction, we will recess at approximately 10:00 pm. The class will begin again at 7:00 am sharp on Saturday and will conclude about 2:30 pm or when the absolute last question is answered. We will cook through-out the night, the details of which will be discussed in the Saturday morning session. Attendees are welcome to stay onsite overnight but are encouraged to get a good nights rest for the Saturday session. Host hotel information is available for this event upon request.

Cost for this class is $500 per person and $250 for spouses. Seating is limited to allow for complete class participation and is on a first come, first serve basis. Friday dinner and Saturday breakfast will be provided. Complete and return the application with payment to reserve your seat now. The mobile phone request is only to contact you the day of the class if we're about to start and you're not there, so please include that information.
